Never

- Stretch, compress, rotate, crop, or rearrange the logo.

	Charcoal #1F1D1D | 31, 29, 29	Wordmark, body text, premium contrast

Use ivory or white for most of the field, charcoal for structure and readability, coral as the main emotional accent, and gold sparingly. Kraft and blush support packaging and photography.

> ACCESSIBILITY
>
> Use charcoal for normal text. Deep coral can be used for larger headings and controls; test every text/background pairing to WCAG AA before launch.

07 / G-UNIT CAKES

Typography

Pair a graceful editorial serif with a direct, modern sans serif. The contrast mirrors decorated craft and dependable service.

Cormorant Garamond

Preferred display face / Medium or Semibold / Headings, quotes, campaign moments

Manrope

Preferred body face / Regular or Medium / Website, forms, captions, order information

Reliable fallbacks

Display	Body
Georgia, Times New Roman, serif	Arial, Helvetica, sans-serif

Type rules

- Use sentence case for headings and calls to action.
- Reserve all caps for short labels only.
- Use body text at 16 px minimum in digital applications.
- Keep letter spacing at 0 for headings and body copy.
- Do not use more than two font families in one design.
- Keep line length comfortable: roughly 55 to 75 characters.

SIMPLE HIERARCHY

Elegant display headline / Clear supporting line / Direct action in the sans serif

08 / G-UNIT CAKES

Visual language

The cake remains the hero. Brand details provide recognition, order, and warmth around it.

Photography

- Light. Use bright natural light and keep frosting colours accurate.
- Subject. Show the real cake clearly before atmospheric details.
- Variety. Mix complete cake portraits, close piping details, slices, and hands at work.
- Surface. Prefer ivory, blush, stone, pale wood, charcoal, or natural kraft.
- Edit. Keep the result warm, soft, and true to the product.

Composition

Quiet space

Leave room for short copy without covering the cake.

Product clarity

Use straight-on or gentle three-quarter views for hero images.

Purposeful crop

Use close detail crops deliberately; never clip the cake accidentally.

Relevant props

Use only a few props tied to flavour, occasion, or making.
